

STATE LINE LOOKOUT is about half a mile south of the actual New Jersey–New York state line. It has its own (unnumbered) exit in Alpine, New Jersey, about 2 miles north of Palisades Interstate Parkway Exit 2, accessible directly from the PIP northbound lanes and via a median U-turn from the PIP southbound lanes, and is also accessible to hikers on the Long Path and to pedestrians and cyclists via Old Route 9W.

Cars & Motorcycles Only (no bicycles):

- From northbound Palisades Interstate Parkway: The well-marked exit for State Line Lookout is about 2 mi. north of Exit 2.
- From southbound Palisades Interstate Parkway: Stay in the left lane after passing Exit 3. Take the median U-turn (well marked). Use caution, as you will need to get into the right lane immediately to exit for State Line Lookout.

By Bicycle:

Cyclists can use the 1.5-mile concrete roadway of Old Route 9W (closed to traffic) for access to State Line Lookout. The entrance to Old Route 9W is on U.S. Route 9W, at the state line by the entrance to Lamont–Doherty Earth Observatory.

By Public Transportation:

- See njpalisades.org for more information on coming to the park by public transportation.
- Buses stop on U.S. Route 9W, at the state line by the entrance to Lamont–Doherty Earth Observatory. Follow the concrete roadway of Old Route 9W (closed to traffic) to State Line Lookout. Total distance = about 1.5 mi. Old roadway is clear but follows an uphill grade going to the Lookout. Allow about 45 min. for each direction, up and back down.
